1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ellis (cited by Applicant). Ellis discloses a sporting device with a sport board 10 having a top surface with at least two sets of foot pads 16 positioned at various angles with respect to each other, the foot pads having hooks and loop elements. Also disclosed by Ellis is a foot piece 21 with a planar sole and hook and loop fastening elements (note Figures 2 and 3).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ellis (cited by Applicant) in view of Mogonye. Ellis does not disclose removable elements and the elements covering the entire sole. Mogonye teaches a footpiece with grip elements 21 which entirely cover the sole and are removable. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the elements of Ellis to entirely cover the sole for improved gripping force and to removable affix the elements to allow easy and quick replacement as taught by Mogonye.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Messer shows a pad. Berggren shows a removable grip element.
